Community Pool Groups Launch Last-Ditch Stand to 'Sink' Excise Taxes

By FRED HILL

With time growing short for the United States Senate to act on an exemption bill, a loosely-knit but ever-growing organization of community pool members this week took steps to avoid paying federal excise tax on swim club fees and charges.

Stressing the importance of the Forand Bill, now in the senate's finance committee, one Central Contra Costa community pool officer noted important late developments which could result in the avoidance of the 20 per cent tax now imposed on pool memberships.

GENE BROWN, president of Lafayette Las Trampas Pool noted these developments:

1. The advent of the "side-stroke"—a means by which members may legally be able to get around the excise tax.

2. Snowballing of a concerted effort among area pool officers and members to fight for passage of the Forand Bill.

3. A change in tavk of the letter-writing campaign to urge passage of the exempting bill.

THE "SIDE-STROKE" applies to all efforts to avoid payment of the 20 per cent tax, prior to passage of the Forand Bill; or in case it fails to pass; or "dies" in the about-to-adjourn session of the Senate.

President Brown puts it this way:

"One of the pool groups in our growing league of community pools has only 16 member families. Another has 28.

"In other words, there is no minimum size of the group at which the federal tax ceases to apply. Thus, to show how ridiculous the thing can get, any two neighbors who might join in providing a common pool for the use of their families would presumably be subject to the tax.

"Yet a householder who operates a pool for his own exclusive benefit pays no excise tax because the "membership" feature is absent."

IN A SPECIAL report sent out to all members this week, Brown noted that "The tax in question was devised many years ago in terms of country clubs and metropolitan 'athletic clubs' with their dining rooms, bars, ballrooms, steam rooms, social emphasis, far-flung clientele, and many commercial features."

On the other hand, he explained, " . . . community pools have only recently come into being . . . they are characteristically cooperative undertakings by compact groups of suburban neighbors . . . for the welfare of their families in the home community."

The differences, Brown said, are emphasized in the Forand Bill.

BROWN WENT ON to note that a U.S. District Court decision had shown that one community pool, Twinbrook, should be exempt from the "luxury" tax because it was not "athletic or social" within the meaning of the U.S. code.

Although notified that the tax MAY be assessed against them, Brown said, most of the community pools, being recent developments, have chosen to ignore assessments to their members of the tax.

In preparation of possible assessment, however, Brown noted the following exceptions to the excise tax (which is actually in the form of two separate taxes.)

EXEMPT FROM TAX ON "INITIATION" FEES.

1. Amounts paid for life memberships.

2. Lodges and fraternal organizations.

EXEMPT FROM TAX ON ANNUAL DUES.

1. Dues not exceeding $10 a member.

2. Lodges and fraternal groups.

The present Las Trampas "side-stroke" would include a readjustment within the organization to include families as "life members" and also to reduce "dues" to $10 or less per person per year. These moves, Brown said, would result only if the Forand Bill fails to pass in this legislative session in Washington.

WITH REGARD to the bill, Brown stressed, "The issue will be decided within a month."

Meanwhile, he said, more and more community pools in the area have joined in the effort to fight for passage of the Forand Bill.

At the time of the first community-pool meeting, 12 groups from this area met at Castro Valley June 3. Total membership of the 12 area groups was estimated at 10,000.

Since that time, Brown said, at least 21 community pool groups from Lafayette - Orinda - Walnut Creek have joined the "impromptu trade association." Eighteen of these, he said, are in Central Contra Costa, with over 4000 member families, and a total membership of about 17,000.

Concerning the previously announced "mass letter writing" campiagn, Brown said, "Representatives of the various pools have decided that such a campaign would me undesirable in the brief remaining time because a flood of stereotyped letters from individuals might distract attention from the pool organizations themselves."

SENATORS OF CONCERN to pool groups, he said, are ranking members of the Senate Finance Committee, Harry F. Byrd and Ed Martin, as well as California Senators William Knowland and Thomas Kuchel." Persons who wish to write their own personal letters may do so, Brown said, by addressing them care of the Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.

In letters to the senators, pool groups have stated:

"Your active support of H.R. 7125 (Forand Bill) is strongly urged. It has been said that the power to tax is the power to destroy and indeed . . . individual initiative and aggressiveness is greatly suppressed by an unjustifiable tax."

Suit Seeks to Bar Maisel FromOperationsin Area

Central Contra Costa's "boy wonder" real estate king, F. W. "Fred" Maisel has been named in a suit to bar him from real estate operations in the seven Bay Counties.

According to Kenneth Richardson, who filed the suit Tuesday in Superior Cournt at Richmond, the 33-year-old Maisel has failed to comply with a June 4 agreement to abandon business in the area.

At that time, Richardson contends, Maisel agreed to give up his once fabulous ($165 million) plans for real estate developments and operations.

Richardson, Walnut Creek financier, and party to the agreement, claims that in June Maisel agreed to abandon all tract development sales and turn back to Richardson the various offices operated by Maisel, including exclusive rights to trade marks, sales emblems and advertising color schemes.

Off to a whirlwind start in 1956, Maisel began by announcing a sales program involving $165 million dollars worth of Northern California homes. He also sought to promote a number of multi-million dollar motels.

His real estate empire was once allegdly comprised of nine companies, four real estate offices, and 36 branch real estate offices.

Of the eight telephone numbers listed for Maisel in the newest county phone book only two of Maisel's phones were in operation this week. The County Real Estate Board records show that he has only three offices open with less than a dozen salesmen.

The motel plans have been dropped and a number of liens have been filed in Contra Costa County on varoius Maisel projects. Recorded are a number of bank loans on various property in excess of $100,000 and a $7848 chattel mortgage on Maisel's furniture at his home, 1312 Sunset Loop, Walnut Creek.

A hearing has been set for June 27 on Richardson's request for a temporary restraining order against Maisel. The suit asks for permanent injunction to enforce the June 4 agreement and $200 a day, retroactive to June 5, for failure to live up to the agreement.

Richardson originally turned over to Maisel in June, 1955, a business doing $40,000,000 a year in gross sales. Combined into the K/R Maisel Company were the K/R Homes, K/R Peninsula, Contra Costaa Management and Redwood Mortgage Syndicate, all Richardson holdings.

At that time, Richardson's sales firms held exclusive rights to $55,000,000 in sales contracts in 55 active subdivisions.

In return, Richardson was to abandon all tract sales and receive 5 per cent of the gross commissions for a period of 10 years.

Key System Action Seeks To Halt Sale

Key System took steps Wednesday to halt the action by the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District for acquisition of the transit facility or to obtain maximum payment from damages it would suffer should acquisition be successful.

The transit firm appeared before the Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco and asked for dismissal of the ditsrict's petition asking the PUC to set a price on all the facilities the district wishes to acquire.

IN A SECOND motion. however, the Key System asked that if the petition is not dismissed, the district must pay damages over and beyond the actual cost of the Key facilities needed.

Company president G. L. Stanley made the requests at the open meeting.

The Key spokesman noted that he PUC ha sno right to conduct the evaluation requested by the transit district because the law does not provide for this action on behalf of the district.

Ift the PUC permits the request of the transit district, then the Key System demands severance damages on contracts and obligations.

Teenager? Need a Job? Try a Free Sun Want Ad!

If you are a teenager and you are looking for a job or at least a chance to earn some pocket money, here is a good way to get a start at it.

Again, The Sun offers to all teen-agers of the area the opportunity of placing free work wanted in the classified sectioss of The Sun and Sun Shopping News.

Any teen-ager may place a 10-word classified ad at any one of The Sun offices for a two-week period. The ad will appear in The Pleasant Hill Sun, Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun and Sun Shopping News.

The rules are as follows:

The teen-ager must appear in person at one of The Sun offices: 1000 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette, or 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

ADS MUST BE submitted in writing prior to 3 p.m. Monday for publication in the Wednesday edition of The Sun Shopping News and the Friday edition of The Sun.

Included in the ad should be the name, age and type of position the teen-ager seeks.

The Sun offices are open Monday through Saturday. Ads may be placed any day of the week. Telephone ads will not be taken, and the ad must be brought in by the teen-ager placing the ad, or by a parent.

Employers are requested to contact the individual at the telephone number listed in the ad, and not to call The Sun for information regarding the individual advertisements.

HUNDREDS of teen-agers have already taken advantage of The Sun's free work wanted classified ads in past years and found many jobs to keep them busy all summer.

Some worked in engineering offices, others for contractors; girls found positions as typists, file clerks and similar positions which led to year round work and positions after graduation.

10 Votes Put Ring Over Davis In Judge Race

The June 3 Primary Elections continued to shock political punditsts today as official ballot counts showed that C. Terence Ring nosed out Jackson Davis by 10 votes to qualify in the November general elections for a shot at judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District.

Ring, Walnut Creek attorney, edged Davis out, according to a count of absentee ballot returns by the county elections office by 10 votes.

THE OFFICIAL COUNT, James Olsson, elections chief, said, is Ring, 2958; Davis, 2948. Betsy FitzGerald Rahn will run against Ring.

In other contests, Incumbent Judge Thomas Fraga, VI Department Superior Court, picked up 613 votes in the absentee ballot against Assistant District Attorney Thomas McBride's 562 votes to insure him of another term in office.

CONCORD POLICE Chief Ron Orin picked up 288 absentee ballots against Walter Young's 242 absentee votes.

The outcome of the sheriff election was not changed, however. Brown and Young will be on the ballot in November.

Commission OKs Grove-Shafter Freeway Route

The actual route for the long-proposed Grove-Shafter Freeway running from the Bay Bridge to Contra Costa County has been approved by the State Highway Commission, according to J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer.

Sinclair noted that no monies had been allocated as yet by the State Highway Commission, according to J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer.

Sinclair noted that no monies had been allocated as yet by the commission for the $59 million project and that action on the proposed twin tunnel for the Broadway Low Level Tunnel has not been allocated any funds as yet.

Sinclair stated, however, that both projects are multi-year affairs and that in all probability they would be considered at budget allocation sessions in September or October for the 1959-60 budget.

Start of the Grove-Shafter project has been projected some time within the next three years.

The Shepherd Canyon Freeway, to run from upper Park Boulevard through a proposed tunnel in Contra Costa and extending through Moraga Valley to Lafayette and linking with the Walnut Creek Interchange, now under construction, would be some time after the Grove-Shafter project.

C. of C. Directors Organization Meet Held Yesterday

New directors of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce met yesterday to lay organization plans during the coming year, according to Clarence Betz, secretary.

At the Tuesday meeting of the Chamber at Casa Orinda, the chamber was notified that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company would move its steel pole extending from the Central Valley Bank to a light and power standard in the near future.

The Chamber was informed that the pole hampered sidewalk traffic in that area.

In other business, the chamber appointed John Ogden and Irvy Moore, to be chairmen of the Christmas Tree Floodlight Committee.

Nationwide Dial Phone Hookup Set

A new and earlier date has been set for the start of nationwide telephone dialing in Orinda.

The new service will begin here Sunday, June 29.

Nationwide dialing had been scheduled to go into service July 13. But Pacific Telephone Manager Howard Greenhalgh said that company installation crews have been moving along faster than originally expected.

"Everything is just about in shape now," he explained, "and we can have it ready by the 29th."

The nationwide dialing means that people here can pick up their phones and dial calls directly to hundreds of cities and towns across the United States.

The equipment that makes it all possible is located in Orinda's new dial telephone building on Santa Maria Way.

That building also will provide extra equipment to keep pace with the needs of the Orinda area.

"In all," Greenhalgh said, "it adds up to a $1,000,000 expansion projects."

He also said that special nationwide dialing pamphlets are being sent to Orinda customers. The pamphlets tell how to dial a long distance call list some of the places that can be dialed directly.

Transit District Suit to Continue In Marin Courts

The pre-trial hearing of the case of the people of the State of California vs. the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District will be continued Monday in the chambers of Marin County Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli in San Rafael, according to the Marin County Clerk's office.

The hearing is slated for 10 a.m. in Department I of the Marin County Superior Court.

A Contra Costa County taxpayers suit seeks to exclude from the transit district the cities of Richmond and San Pablo and unincorporated areas of the county.

The Marin County Court was selected by both parties as neutral ground for the suit to be contested.

Contention of the Contra Costa suit is that the absentee ballots for the specific areas in Contra Costa were improperly canvassed in 1956 when the district was formed.

Robert E. Nisbet, secretary-attorney for the district said in his answering brief that the voting procedure followed by the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District in having the ballot canvassed by the Alameda and Contra Costa Boards of Supervisors was entirely in accordance with state laws.

Acalanes High Seniors Enjoy All-Night Fete

More than 300 graduating seniors from Acalanes High School gathered at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley following commencement exercises Thursday night for the annual "Senior All-Night" staged for the class by parents.

It was one of the largest turnouts in the brief history of the "All-Night," which was for seniors only, with no outside dates. But, more than 80 per cent of the class was on hand, and enjoyed a rousing evening of dancing, games, professional entertainment, and a talent contest featuring members of the class.

Top prize in the talent contest went to Diana Lee Nielsen for ballet dancing. Other winners included Carolyn Fournier, singer; Jane Pendleton, songs and guitar; and a male trio including Ernie Fox, Bill Shurtleff and Jerry Gillivan.

Professional entertainment included the Axidentals, popular recording startet, and Paul Desmond, singing comic. Both acts were so well received they had difficulty leaving the stage. Music for dancing was provided by Dick Dildine and his band.

County Funds Possible For Orinda Crossroads

Detailed landscape plans for the commercial area at the Orinda Crossroads were the subject of discussion Tuesday by representatives of the County and the community.

Robert Babcock explained his landscape plan which was recently presented at a Chamber of Commerce meeting by Chairman of the Civic Beautification Committee, Mrs. Paul Pollaczek.

John Ogden, new President of the Chamber of Commerce, commented that shade trees planted to screen the parking areas of Lucky Market and the Orinda Theatre would be both functional and attractive.

Ray Thayer, landscape architect of the County Planning Commission, and Donald Chamberlain, Maintenance Engineer for the Public Works Department, walked over the business area with the committee discussing how the landscape plan could be practically carried out. Chamberlain stated, "The County often follows the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's approved list of non-deciduous street trees which are being proposed to line Camino Pablo at the Orinda entrance."

THAYER HAS DRAWN a plan for Bryant Way which will tie in with the State landscaping of the Cloverleaf. Mrs. Pollaczek told Thayer that William Penn Mott, advisor to the landscaping committee, had suggested Pink Flowering Chestnuts along Bryant Way would be very effective.

"That would be fine," agreed Thayer, "but that particular tree is unavailable to us. Perhaps the community of Orinda would like to get these trees. We'll add ceanothus, vinca minor, strawberry trees and other shrubs. I understand that the Chamber of Commerce will maintain the proposed planting along Bryant Way until it is established."

DRIVING OVER to the Village By-Pass — which will soon be known as Camino Pablo — the County officials assured the Committee that the State landscaping disrupted by connecting the new highway with the cloverleaf, will be replanted and completed in that section by the County.

When Camino Pablo is finished in the next few months, the bare "benches" and hillsides and the back areas of the village stores will be in great need of planting.

It is hoped, Mrs. Pollaczek said, that with community spirit and County help the bare benches of the freeway can be planted in November. This is a community project that may appeal to our high school students and the young people's groups of our churches, as a community service.

MRS. POLLACZEK commented on the county's appropriation of money for roadside improvement projects and said she is hopeful that priority will be given the area near San Pablo dam, since state landscaping has already been done there.

"We feel there is a good chance," she said, "that we may be able to have the county do some landscaping there, too."

Rapid Transit Bond Ballot Possible by '60: MacLeod

A bond issue to finance construction of a Bay Area Rapid Transit System may be presented to the voters of the five counties in the district as soon as 1960, according to Clair W. MacLeod, president of the commission.

MacLeod pointed out that state legislation creating the district specifies that a transit program must be developed and put before the voters before June 11, 1962.

"WE MAY BE able to push this schedule ahead by one or two years so that we can present a bond issue in June, 1961, or even 1960" he said in reviewing the progress of the district in its first seven months of operation.

A time schedule suggested by a study commission which preceded formation of the district proposed the bond election be held three years from the time the district was organized.

Although directors have not adopted the schedule formally, its recommendations have been generally met so far, MacLeod told directors meeting in San Francisco.

But the biggest jobs are still ahead, he warned.

ONE OF THE most urgent steps is a basic policy decision to "formulate a general approach to the rapid transit program," MacLeod said. He said directors must decide if they will draft a transit plan to meet area needs, then try to finance it; or decide first how big a bond issue can be passed, then plan a transit system to fit it.

"I think it would be fatal at this time to put a price tag on our program, then try to build to fit it," he declared.

MacLeod assigned the problem to the committee on rules and policies for study and an early report. He said the question is "in essence a bottleneck" until it is answered.

Directors agreed a chief engineer should be hired as soon as possible after John Peirce, now State Director of Finance, takes over as the first general manager of the transit district.

MACLEOD ASKED the district liaison committee to start coordinating provision for future rights-of-way with the various governmental agencies within the district. He also asked the finance committee to make recommendations on economic studies and the legal committee to recommend whether any changes in State law are needed for district operations.

Progress Told On Area Hospital

Progress was reported on plans for financing and developing the proposed Walnut Creek Community hospital on an 11-acre site on Ygnacio Valley Road this week.

Dr. Fred Hansen reported, at a meeting held at the Crocker Anglo National Bank in Walnut Creek, that there had been progress on tentative leases for the proposed 22,000 square foot medical office building.

Bruce Copeland submitted reports on negotiations on the site with Dr. George Degnan of Martinez for an area in excess of eight usable acres.

Richard Graves, Lafayette financial representative, raised the question as to whether the medical office building would be taxable. John Nejedly, district attorney-elect of Contra Costa, stated that he was satisfied that the real and personal property for the office building would be taxable.

Some Talk of Teenagers-- And Also of Attitude--

By JOYCE BARNUM

For some time we have been somewhat disturbed to find an attitude of condemnation and downright dislike toward all "teenagers."

Those who are so scornful of all "teenagers."

IF THEY ARE parents of children who are below the age of 13, we hope that they'll consider that in a period varying from one to 12 years, they will themselves be parents of teenagers.

They may reflect strongly that during the ages from birth until six years of age, basic attitudes toward life are developed.

If they find that they cannot cope with a young child, that he outwits them, that he lacks consideration in his behavior with others, lacks self-reliance and responsibility and respect for his elders, they may expect to find their problems with this child multiplied manifestly when he reaches adolescence.

These lacks in a young child will be magnified in an older child.

IF AUTHORITY and discipline are meaningless to him during his early years, will he make a sudden change and abruptly adopt new standards of behavior when he becomes 13?

Instead of carping at the group of present day teenagers who are, for lack of guidance and training, behaving in an unthinking rebellious manner, why not concentrate all efforts and energies upon "training up your child in the way she could grow" to become tomorrow's teenager?

Fortunately, 98 per cent of today's teenagers are not in the category that receives such adverse and blatant notoriety with which we are all familiar.

AN INFLAMMATORY headline may read "Teenagers—" followed by derogatory terminology.

If you are basing your opinion of all young people on these types of headlines, you're just not thinking.

If you are thinking, you will marvel at the accomplishments of many of these youths who are earnestly endeavoring to find a way to cope with the complex problems of the world which they will inherit.

Scientists of our generation revealed to the world the destructive power of the atom.

THE YOUNGER GENERATION faces the task of learning to live with the constant threat of destructiveness and still attempting to turn these forces from evil to good uses.

This young generation begins this work at an early age. Creative talents are put to use in the fields of science, statesmanship and writing—to name a few, while they are in their early teens.

Sometimes they are aided by inspirational teachers and alert educational administrators. At other times they are hampered by poor teaching and inept administrators.

If the youngster is "trained up" to grow strong and sturdy, he will overcome great obstacles to contribute much to future generations.

The majority of today's teenagers are bent upon constructive rebellion than upon destructive acts.

THE MINORITY that receives the noteriety? Their ilk has harassed the world since time began and will for the rest of time.

Despite their behavior, progress has been made in the world and will continue to be made.

Today's younger generation is not 'going to the dogs' any more than these generations preceding theirs.

By and large, these young people face a vastly complicated world with sober, clear-headed, determined hope.

They can use constructive help and thinking from their elders.

Let's try to build them up, whenever we can—not fail them branding them as a bad lot and condemning them all, due to the thoughtless behavior of a very few of their number.

Federal Government Hikes Ante for Flood Work Here

The Federal Soil Conservation Service has doubled its contribution for construction under the Walnut Creek Pilot Project, raising its ante from $2,300,000 to $4,400,000 according to notification today to Supervisor Ray S. Taylor.

The authorization is conditional upon the Contra Costa Flood Control and Water Conservation District furnishing all needed rights of-way and entering into a new cost sharing agreement.

THE NOTIFICATION from the federal agency's Washington headquarters said the proposed revised cost sharing will increase the government's contribution from 38 per cent to a maximum of 82.5 per cent of construction costs.

TAYLOR SAID the increase in federal participation will mean speeding up flood control measures in the watershed.

"With the realization of this agreement and the authorization of the proposed Corps of Engineers project, the original purposes of the Flood Control and Water Conservation District, as established by the 1951 legislative act creating the district, appear to be within reach through the efforts of the Flood Control Commission and Chief Engineer C. C. Rich, and the cooperatio nof Rep. John F. Baldwin," Taylor said.

"Throughout these years, the board of supervisors has been conscious of and has supported plans for obtaining the federal and state aid necessary to overcome drainage deficiencies and obtain protections necessary for this fast growing residential and commercial area."

"In order that federal participation may proceed, local costs of rights-of-way to be advanced by Zone 3B are estimated at $273,000 for the next fiscal year." Taylor said. He added that a portion of these costs will later be reimbursed by the State. Zone 3B must assume maintenance costs after the construction projects are completed.

The work to be projected under the new agreement will essentially complete the Pilot Project for the Walnut Creek Watershed on San Ramon, Las Trampas, Lafayette, Pine, Galindo and Grayson Creeks. The work will entail construction of check dams and other flood control measures on the tributaries of Walnut Creek.

It will be apart from the big $24,500,000 flood control project for the main Walnut Creek channel to be financed by the federal government, state and county, with the county paying approximately 6.2 per cent of the overall cost.

The American Field Service Committee for the Pleasant Hill High School has just received word Jose M. del Hoyo of Palma de Mallorca, Spain, will be attending school at Pleasant Hill as a senior this fall.

The high school students raised the necessary funds to participate in this program. This is a program designed to help teenagers learn how democracy works in the rest of the world.

Jose wil be 16 years of age August 4. He has three brothers, 13, 10 and 8 years of age. His father is a police inspector and mother a school principal. He has had two years of English and can speak French also. He is interested in all sports, especially basketball, handball, socker and swimming.

He plays the guitar, likes to attend movies and dance. Upon his return to Spain he plans to study at the University of Madrid in preparation to become a doctor.

He wanted to come to the United States to see how the Americans live, learn their customs and learn to speak and write English "perfectly."

Jose will be a guest in the John Scott Rader Home, 1995 Reliez Valley Road, Lafayette. The Raders have one son, Scott who wil also be a Junior at Pleasant Hill High School this fall.

Betty Rader says their family likes fishing, gardening, hunting and traveling.

Hacienda Homes Elects Officers

The annual meeting of The Hacienda Improvement Association, of the Orinda Improvement Association, was held at Orinda School on June 10th.

Officers elected for next year are H. Zacharias, president; E. H. Roberts, vice president; Frank Stuart, treasurer; Phyllis Simon, secretary; and trustees, R. J. Cox, Ernst Haynes, and A. S. Hartanov.

J. Davis Romine, president of Hacienda Homes, Inc., outlined the activities of this group.

Romine reported that damage to the remaining Hacienda Homes roads by the heavy rains has been extensive. The Board has been studying ways and means of bringing the roads up to good repair.

Romine outlined one possibility, namely to borrow money from the Small Business Administration for this purpose — the indebtedness to be paid off by one special assessment this year and future income.

Considerable discussion ensued on this subject.

Specifics of this proposition will be presented to the Hacienda Homes residents at a later date.

Discussed also was the idea of splitting the Hacienda Improvement Association into smaller units with a representative on the board from each unit. This is to be given further study in the coming year.

Blum Urges All Out War Against Rats

All out war against rats in Contra Costa County was urged Tuesday in Martinez by county health officer H. L. Blum.

The county Board of Supervisors will consider Blum's request for eradication, education and build-out program in its budget deliberations.

Dr. Blum's written report was read by Chief Sanitarian Thomas McMorrow, who stated:

"There are enough of these seven inch rats in the county to be at least one in number for each person in Contra Costa. There are about one half million of these large rats here," Memorrow said, while holding up a seven inch brown rat before the board.

"It will take four men and three trucks, plus necessary equipment, to conduct an effective all-out war against rodents. Such an effort," he pointed out, "would be a continuous rodent control program in Contra Costa for an indefinite time."

County Administrator Desmond Teeter noted he would ask cities in the county to submit information on rodents to the board.

"Percentage wise, this county appears to be way over the rodent population of many other counties," Blum said.

Universe, Man Is Christian Science Topic

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Christian Science Churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek; and in Concord at the Corner of Grant and Park Streets. Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb" (Matt. 12) will be included in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (180:25): "When man is goverened by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (1:10): "Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands."

No Increase in Key Rates If Public Operates: DeLeuw

A substantially improved public transit system that can pay its own way with existing fares is the prospect for residents of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, according to a preliminary report by Charles E. De Leuw, consulting engineer for the Transit District.

The report indicated that revenues at present fares may be sufficient to pay all operating expenses, provide adequate depreciation reserves, pay fixed charges on the bond issue required to effect the plan, and leave a "modest net income."

DE LEUW OF De Leuw, Cather & Company, consulting engineers, said his estimates take into account the increased scale of wages recently granted Key System employes. Other estimates of traffic and revenues, he added, are based on a "conservative view of the probable patronage of the new and improved service."

In a prograss report to the Board of Directors, De Leuw broadly outlined a new transit system that will include improved frequency of service, extensions and additional routes, the inauguration of express bus service, and the purchase of modern equipment.

New local service will be proposed in the eastern portion of Contra Costa County, the southern section of Alameda County and certain intermediate areas not now properly served, he said.

De Leuw noted that the MacArthur and Grove-Shafter freeways will provide an "excellent opportunity" for rapid transit service. New express bus service between Hayward, San Leandro, Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond also would substantially improve the public service, he said.

THE TRANSIT ENGINEER contemplates a fleet of more than 600 buses, including 315 new ones. The new equipment, he said will include all of the features required to provide the utmost in operating economy and passenger comfort.

Parlor coaches with wide seats all facing forward, head rests and overhead racks will be proposed for express bus and inter-city routes, he said.

The cost of buying necessary equipment will not be estimated until a final report on a mass transit plan for the District is presented by De Leuw early in September.

The engineer said that transit plans of the District must be made to serve twice the present population by 1980.

Jewelers Will Clash in Polo

Oakland's Crescent Jewelers and the Stockton Rancheros, finalists in last Sunday's 12-goal polo tournament, are first round opponents this Sunday in the Mayor George Christopher 10-goal Tournament at Golden Gate Park Polo Field here.

If they duplicate last week's game, won 8 to 7 by the Crescents in double overtime, Bay Area polo fans can expect another thriller.

Dr. Billy Linfoot, who scored four goals for the winners, pushed through the winning tally with just 30 seconds left to play in the second overtime chukker.

Vic Graber of Orinda, captain of the Crescent team, doesn't plan any lineup changes for the rematch.

Graber emphasized that admission is free and the polo field is located on the Main Park Drive at 34th Avenue. There'll be big signs at the entrance.

A guest at last Sunday's game was Buster Wharton, owner of the Waggoner Ranch in Texas, one of the world's largest.

Hey, Guys! It's Poteet Canyon (Gretchin Wallin)

By ERWIN MATTSON

Gretchin Wallin, a 10-year-old student at Vallecito School, is rapidly establishing herself in the athletic world where she not only has keen interest but more than average ability as well.

SHE IS well-known in Vallecito baseball circles as she is the only feminine member of the school's baseball nine—where she does well afield and totes a heavy bat.

She recently entered the 8th Annual Junior Olympics held at Castlemont High School in Oakland.

The event, sponsored by the Pacific Association of the National Amateur Athletic Union and the Oakland Police Department, draws the best in the Bay Area and events are held in age groups.

Gretchin was entered in the midget division with girls up to age 11.

She copped a fifth in the softball throw and was the only girl from the area to place—the first four places went to 11 years olds and Gretchin is aiming for the top spot in next year's competition when she will still be in the same division.

She is also training for the 50-yard dash where she has shown promise with her better than average speed.

FLOWERS

When lighting your flowers for summer beauty, white flowers and gardens with mixed and highly saturated colored blooms usually look best when lighted with white light. If you want to heighten the colors of blossoms, or objects, use bulbs of the same hue.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

My heart belongs to daddy . . .

MOST PLEASED & PROUD PAPAS on Father's Day were those First-Graders from Mrs. O'Neill's class carried home the following carefully printed card:

"Father, I love you. I am proud of you because: 1. You work hard all day for our family. 2. You read me stories at night. 3. You take me on trips. 4. You bring me good books to read. 5. You bring home toys to me. 6. You pay for the food I eat. 7. You drive me places in the car. 8. You pay my doctor bills. 9. You make me happy in so many ways, I cannot think of all of them. You are handsome and good. Best of all: You brought our family to Orinda to live."

Wanna bet that every single one is Saved For Posterity?

FATHER'S DAY elevated smiling & singing Wes Smith to the status quo of Grandfather, his dghtr. Pat & her husband Don Jebens presenting Connie & Wes w/a first grandchild, David Scott, born at Providence Hosp. Sun. morn while Wes was solo-singing in church.

ONE OF OUR WELL-meaning matrons decided to do over hubby's office for The Big Day & ordered furniture, modern & far from mild, for her conservative spouse's 9-5 setting. When delivery of same arrived, "Surprise!" HE KNEW there was some mistake, NEVER would SHE have such a WILD taste, take the darn stuff back, call the store, the manager, THE PRESIDENT! Hubby won out, wifey gave in. This week, a truce & they're shopping TOGETHER!

Gloom doomed by partygoers

HOW GLOOM WAS JUNE until last Sat. when Lombardy Branch ushered in the season w/a "Summer Starter" party at the handsome home of the George Merriams. You know the classic Henry Hill-designed house on Van Tassel Lane, the one w/that intriguing circular solarium. Actually the delightful screened porch is their yr. round cheerful dining spot, but one guest gasped "What a wonderful sanctuary for the birds!" SOME birds!

Fine-feathed ones, actually. The first warm eve in eons, it seemed, bringing out a brash of bouffant frockery, and might as well admit, some snappy looking sacks sashaying by . . . Particularly entrancing was Sev Schnugg in a chemise frock complete w/headache band over a frou-frou hairdo. Someone ELSE remarked "IF ANYBODY deserves wearing a headache band, it's Sev. With her NINE children, who WOULDN'T have a headache!"

PLENTY OF PARKING SPACE in this still bucolic section of Sleepy Hollow & guests were greeted at the entry to the main party area, a large tanbarked section where the Merriam's pool will some day be . . . Up the stairs to a trim concrete & gravel terraced garden surrounded by oaks above which twirled plastic Sputniks in orbit, these & other decor the deft work of Art & Bev Schwatka.

OTHERS IN ORBIT . . . Homer & Grace Jewett . . . Merlon & Tom Howard, her dress a lattice-strapped bareback one . . . Bill & Gail Hanford, she off the next a.m. w/her children flying to Michigan for a summer visit. Cay & Gene Snover host & hostessing . . . A A FIRST Orinda party for newcomers John & Kay O'Hara recently ensconced in the former Moreskine menage on El Gavilan. W/Scat & Mildred Laws were the TC Kallams (he's a double for Jerry Lewis, SHE for Doris Day, esp. as she departed SINGING down the street!) Hosting late dinner parties were Betty & Nils Eklund, Marilyn & Bob Hampton (HIS B'day!) and Bea & Art Comerford who honored the Art Lundblads & Harry Pecks on their respective Anniversaries.

Gathered in a singing group, the Ned deLaveagas, Lloyd Rasmussens, Miles Sutliffes (HE likes to sing the old ones). Dick Kendall, sporting a blk. & wht. sportcoat, helping Joan tidy up before they left for dinner w/their neighbors Mary Lou & Lee Paul who bought the wonderful Watson house on Hidden Lane.

TUNNEL STRIP PLEASING their palates later . . . At Tunnel Inn, the aforementioned Kendalls & Pauls w/a large crowd flowing in . . . Lots of listeners for pianist Willie Baranco's rendition of "How High The Moon," recommended for requesting on a Quieter night! Berk. Restaurateur Larry Blake in a group, his new WC restaurant in the Epicurean-Victorian class, to be located on Bonanza St. right next to the Union Ice Co. (A guarantee HE'LL never run out of ice cubes!)

Catching dinner over at Cape Cod House, the Jack Snows w/the Leight deMaeyers having enjoyed the early Walnut Branch Swimdig at the Kermit Lincolns. A crowd around Art McCue's piano, and a beautifully classic arrangement of "Funny Valentine," incl. the Bob Lymans w/Evelyn & Art Anderson as well as the Dwight Dickinsons w/the R. Stefanses, and the Alex Poulsens & Frank Gillespies.

Pomona honors one of our park experts

POMONA HONRS for park expert Dr. Harold C. Bryant of Glorietta Bvld. who sailed South mid-wk. for an honorary doctor of science degree from that college in Claremont. Bryant, who retired in '54 from the Nat'l Park Service, was a former assistant Director of the service, consultant for the estab. of Kings Canyon Nat'l Park Q Supt. of Grand Canyon Nat'l Park.

THE FRANK BRUNKS have a handsome new sterling silver punch bowl. The gift, the donation of Athenian-Nile Club pres. Jim Freeman when Brunk Sr., together w/Atty. Edgar Stewart, shared top honors in the 35th annual A-N Club golf tourney which ended last wk. Brunk, who finished one stroke behind Stewart in the low net division, won low gross honors w/a 75 at Orinda & topped that off by firing a seven-over par 76 at Claremont Club at Tourney's end. (Who do we think we are, the Sports Ed.?)

DAVID NIVEN isn't the only one who's gone up in a Balloon & Around the World in 80 days . . . Mary Dorr did it in 80 minutes. What's more she took about 250 women along!

This continental strato-cruise occurred June 10 when the Orinda Community Church Women held their annual Guild spring luncheon at the spacious new Orinda-Presbyterian Church high on a hilltop, closer to Heaven, Lafayette.

Brilliantravel posters & foreign flags adorned the walls of the huge room. Some 23 tables individually decorated by various guild members to represent EVERY country. Emma Usinger dressed hers Peruvian w/brightly-clad straw dolls, one of Anna Mordy's two oriental tables featured a delicate Geisha doll . . . Elsie Harmon put plaid wool scarves & tams on chubby-cheeked Scotsmen fashioned of baloons . . . and Guatamelan table caught her eye w/its little bowls of coffeebeans.

MARIAN LONG did an African setting for one, complete w/cannibals & boiling kettles. But the piece de resistance was her humorous table for India . . . Ceramic cows! The big bovine wearing a "HOLY COW" collar sign, its little calves sporting "halos." Which reminds us—

Just try to keep on the main subject . . .

HOW NOW did those cows & calves come to be on the lawns around Katrina Ct. in Sleepy Hollow last wk? What WERE they doing there or rather, WHERE did they come from & wither were they wending?

And spkg. of Africa, if you tho't you saw two Headhunters headshrinking through Orinda one recent night, Oh, Come now! It was just Lid & Kirk Miles on whom Char Chapple had practiced a little VooDoo w/greasepaint so they could "do" a Piedmont costume party in style.

BUT BACK TO THE CHURCH PARTY, a real "Blowout," literally! The handsome gay marbleized ascension balloons suspended from the ceiling burst & popped LOUD intermittently during the program, and, of course, much gay laughter ensued. (Oh, these gigglers, don't they getcha!) Among the hostesses, Betty Weber in gay Russian headdress w/vari-colored streamers, Katie Flint pouring coffee, jeweled "chopsticks" in her coif, Margaret Fisher, a true Svenske, in her own Swedish native dress. . . . Ticket Chrmn. Kitty Schwark collecting door prize ducats.

AMONG THE THRONG . . . Carrie Brown being welcomed back from too-long-away at Pacific Grove, Gloria Westerfield forgetting real estate long enough to enjoy the fun, Lila Axelson w/betty Mainwaring, Ruth Mott & Ruth Howe across from one another The program, narrated by Mary in verse rhymed & writ by Marian Brown, highlighted by SWISS yodeler young Kip Nelson getting a big hand. HE the son of the Charles Nelsons who sojorned in Holland last yr. EVERYBODY deserving bouquets for a beautiful party.

TRAVEL NEWS . . . The Paul Byerles, finally getting the "Go" sign for the Philippines, were goodbye-partied by their neighbors last Sat. night. The Byerles left Thurs. to fly East to Wash. & New England w/the four children before home again & the final packup & off to Manila. Lola & Ted Dyer are touring Chicago, Philly & New York together . . . The salty sea spray of the Eastern Seaboard for the Ray Fontaines who are making the trip in their new wagon. . . . The Nevil Daniels (they danced together professionally in England) are christening their new Chieftan w/a trip to Salt Lake City . . . and just like her books, Orinda librarian Sarah Malinowsky is "due" home from a holiday w/family in Montana & No. Carolina. The Ben Olsen moving to Chicago, will turn over their housekeys to the Dick Farmers. That's It!

Orinda's Doctor Bryant Honored by Alma Mater

Orindan Harold C. Bryant of 245 Glorietta Boulevard, who pioneered the guide service in the United States national parks, was given an honorary doctor of science degree at the 65th annual commencement excercises of Pomona College Sunday.

Dr. Bryant, who was born in Pasadena, Calif., is a 1908 graduate of Pomona who retired in 1954 from the National Park Service. For 15 years he was superintendent of Grand Canyon National Park.

He took his graduate work at the University of California and was a member of the university's Museum of Vertebrate Zoology staff. For 16 years he directed educational and research work of the California Fish and Game Commission. He also edited its quarterly magazine, and with two others wrote the monumental "Game Birds of California."

IN 1920 HE ORGANIZED a nature education program in Yosemite National Park and for 10 years devoted each summer to this work. This led to the opening of the Yosemite School of Field Natural History which he directed. Many of the 300 graduates of this school are now engaged in interpretive work of the Park Service.

In 1930 he became assistant director of the Park Service in Washington and spent the next decade administering its reseach and educational program. In this post he devoted much of his attention to the development of the guide service and educational programs now available at United States National Parks. This work was done to help the visitor "obtain a maximum of knowledge and appreciation of the chief features" of the parks, he said.

HE WAS NAMED acting superintendent of Grand Canyon in 1939, then served as consultant for establishment of Olympic and Kings Canyon National Parks. He returned to Grand Canyon in 1941 as superintendent, which position he held until his retirement in 1954.

Since his retirement he has been honored in numerous ways. He received the honor award of the California Conservation Council, the Distinguished Service Award and Gold Medal of the U. S. Department of the Interior, and the Cornelius Amory Pugsley Gold Medal Award of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society.

He is secretary of the Orinda Rotary Club, president of the Outlook Club, a discussion group; a director of the Oakland Busines Men's Garden Club, and a member of the conservation committee of the Sierra Club, and of the pastoral committee of the Trinity Methodist Church. He has a large world postage stamp collection and vegetable and flower garden.

Two Orindans To Receive BAs

Two Orinda girls are among candidates for bachelor of arts degrees at Pomona College.

Beverly E. Branch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis C. Branch, 2 Washington Lane, Orinda, is a 1954 graduate of Acalanes High School, Lafayette. She will enroll in the University of California at Berkeley this summer to do graduate study in education.

Tania Hudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Hudd, 22 Las Palomas, Orinda. She is also a 1954 graduate of Acalanes High.

Miss Hudd is engaged to another member of the Pomona class of '58, Robert W. Selden of Phoenix, Ariz. Their wedding is scheduled on Commencement Day, Sunday 15, at the college in Claremont. In the fall she plans to enroll with her husband at the University of Wisconsin, where she will study applied art.

Jaycees' Sale Set Saturday

The Orinda Jaycees will be having an auto flare sale on Saturday, during store hours at Lucky Market, the Orinda Store in Orinda Village, and Black's Market.

Proceeds from the auto flare sale will go toward the purchase of resuscitators, which the Orinda Women's Club and the Jaycees are buying.

The Orinda Fire Department currently has one resuscitator and the two clubs will purchase two additional ones.

John Miller is chairman of the flare sale for the Jaycees. He urged all motorists to buy the accident-preventing flares for their cars, and at the same time aid the Fire Department's equipment supply.

Men Graduate

Robert C. Eberhardt, 57 Van Ripper Lane, and James L. Kester, 20 La Noria, were among Orinda students to receive degrees at recent Harvard University commencement excercises.

Eberhardt received a bachelor of arts degree and Kester was granted a master of business administration degree.

COMING JUNE 29—NEW PHONE SERVICE TO MEET ORINDA'S GROWTH!

To keep pace with Orinda's tremendous growth a new and larger dial system goes into service Sunday, June 29! Years of planning have gone into this installation. New equipment has been put in which will speed your local calls . . . and let you dial your own long distance calls, too!

Under this new system, all Orinda phone numbers will start with the prefix CLifford 4. To let the new equipment handle your calls, you need to dial the full 7 digits—including the prefix (CL-4).

Here's how to dial a local call with new numbers

- Get the number from the new phone directory we've sent you, and write it down so you won't forget it while you dial.
- Let's suppose the number you've looked up is CLifford 4-2999. First, dial the prefix C-L-4 . . . then 2-9-9-9. That's all there is to it!

On East Bay calls, you'll no longer dial the code "99".

- Just dial direct—like a local call. This applies to all Bay Area cities.

Same time — Orinda gets Nationwide Direct Distance Dialing

Starting Sunday, June 29, you'll also be able to dial your own long distance calls direct to such cities as Sacramento, San Diego and New York. We're sending you a booklet telling where you can dial and how to do it. Please read it carefully and keep it near your phone for handy reference.

Highway Patrol Warns of Signals

Make sure the turn signals on your car are off when you are not going to turn warns the California Highway Patrol.

"Approved turn signals are for use to indicate you are about to make a left or right turn in traffic," stated Captain Russel R. Magill of the Contra Costa Area office of the Patrol. "Use them properly, but make sure they are turned off after you have completed the turn or lane change.

"Oft-times serious accidents occur when a driver fails to turn at an intersection after displaying a lighted turn signal for some distance prior to entering the intersection," Captain Magill emphasized. "An oncoming driver, also with turn signal lit, figures the other car is going to turn and makes a left turn in front of the approaching car.

Does Your Child Swim? Classes Are Available

Does your child know how to swim?

Needless to say, this can be a very important question around any household . . . that is, if you are at all fond of your children and prefer to keep them with you for a couple of more years.

There is no reason why every child in this area could not learn how to swim, reasonably and easily, because there are community organizations geared to the teaching of young swimmers.

In past years the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross has undertaken this responsibility, but with the organization of other community groups for this purpose, it is devoting its efforts to life saving classes only.

Both Las Lomas and Acalanes High School Pools will have continuing programs throughout the summer for the instruction of youngsters, and the Pleasant Hill Park and Recreation District is taking care of the youngsters in that area.

Orinda children are welcome at the Acalanes swim sessions, besides the individual swim programs which are available in the many neighborhood Orinda pools for those who belong to them.

Swim classes, under the direction of Dave DeVaroni, at Acalanes High School, will number 35 per day, with five periods each day and seven classes running simultaneously.

Lafayette and Orinda residents may register their children from 8:45 to noon Tuesday through Saturday, at which time the swim lessons are conducted.

It is the present plan to continue these lessons throughout the summer, with five two-week periods.

The Walnut Creek Recreation Center is running a swim program at the Las Lomas pool for all children over 44 inches tall. The program began Monday and will continue through August 23 with five sessions. Registration is $3, certainly a reasonable insurance fee to protect your child from water damage.

Pleasant Hill will run swimming classes on July 9 and 10, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on August 4 and 5 during the same hours.

The Staff Corner

Now Readers, The "TRUTH"

By FRED HILL

As near as I can figure out, two things were happening at about the same time at my apartment building recently.

At around 11 p.m. my roommate was buttonholing me and telling me confidentially that there were some things going on that I ought to know about . . . because, he said, if we didn't remain ever-vigilant these things could happen to us, too.

Well, namely, he said, (and he was pretty up in the air about the whole thing) that The Manager and The Owner were getting more than a little highhanded in the way they are running the place.

Seems there was this Salesman who lives in the building, a newlywed, and he had been keeping this friendly little pet dog.

FOR NO REASON at all, my roommate tells me, The Manager tells this guy to get rid of the mutt. After the newlywed Salesman does this, thereby playing by the rules, the Manager starts eviction proceedings.

"This a crime, an outrage . . . and also illegal and immoral," my roommate tells me, "and it up to us to set the Manager and the Owner straight before we too find ourselves on the bricks for some minor infraction of the Apartment House Rulebook."

Last night as I am pulling my laundry out of the automatic, I spot the Manager gimping along toward me.

"What happened to you," I inquired, "you fall into the garbage grinder?"

"It's my ribs," he said plaintively, "I think two of 'em are busted."

SINCE RUMORS are my business, and roomers are his, the two of us went into his apartment so that I could hear the full tale of his "busted ribs."

The Manager's Wife sat patiently as he talked; nodding once in a while to confirm that what he was saying was the straight goods.

"It was the Salesman," he said, "The guy comes hammering on the door, I let him in, he beats me all over the front room. Now is that a nice way for a guy to act? First off, he sneaks a dog into the apartment; the dog he keeps locked in the bathroom when he and his wife go out; the neighbors are complaining. So I tell him nicely that he should see to getting rid of the dog . . . but no, he gets mad andcall s me a bunch of dirty names. So what am I going to do? I talk to the Owner and we start proceedings to get him out of here. Then the other night he hikes in here and smashes the stuffings out of me, with his wife egging him on."

"I could have shot him," the Manager said, producing his service revolver, "but what're you going to do with a guy like that?"

"File suit," I said.

"I done that," he replied.

So there you are. At the same time on the same evening:

(A) My roommate is telling me how the Salesman is being set upon by highhanded Owners and Managers.

And

(B) The Salesman is allegedly knocking the stuffings out of the Manager . . . and, as we say, "without provocation."

SO WHO YOU gonna believe?

If you see a reporter walking around in a fogbound state, it is reasonable to assume that he is weighing (A) against (B) and eventually coming up with (C) which is his own version of the truth.

The enlightened newspaperman, of which there are a few, will attempt to weigh carefully what he puts in the paper.

The newspaper "hack" assumes the carnival barker's attitude of "You pays your money and takes your cherce!"

Not long ago I happened to be in the office of a mayor of a community the size of Walnut Creek. The big "conflict" at the time was a civic swimming pool. The Mayor was a Democrat; the City Council was Republican. They were at opposite poles on the issue.

I TOLD THE MAYOR what the Councilmen were saying on the issue.

His face turned the color of a Jonathan apple and his neck swelled until I thought it would pop the top two buttons on his collar.

"Just listen to this," he said, "this is the truth."

"Yes, but Mayor," I said, "what they said was the truth."

He slammed his fist down on the desk and declared:

"But this is the TRUTH truth"

And so it goes . . .

Community Welfare Council to Meet Tuesday

Recommendations of the nominations committee; election and installation of officers for the ensuing year, will be the agenda of the second Annual Meeting of the Community Welfare Council of Central Contra Costa County, according to William V. Hogan of Concord, president.

The luncheon meeting will be Tuesday at noon at the Nut Bowl, 3185 North Main Street, off Oak Park Boulevard, Pleasant Hill.

"The Community's Role In Welfare Council Planning" will be the topic of an address by Miss Gertrude Wilson, professor of Social Work at the University of California.

"Our speaker's topic is pertinent to what we are attempting to achieve in this widespread community. The role of the community in the Welfare Council cannot be underestimated. The support of all residents, as well as professionals, is greatly encouraged by all of us," Hogan said.

"The Council — like the community we find ourselves part of — reflects its character and the many challenging problems of too rapid population growth. Facilities in the health, welfare and children and family services are heavily burdened. The Council through its five-point program is attempting to coordinate and aid in jointly finding solutions to these problems," he said.

The five-point program is:

1.) Joint planning and projects by Community service agencies to eliminate duplication and wasted funds and energies;

2.) informational services: determine needs of residents in health, welfare and existing youth agencies;

3.) promote through combined community efforts needed agencies and develop educational programs where such needs exist;

4.) improve services of existing health and welfare services;

5.) public information and education.

The nominations committee, under the chairmanship of John Price, of Pleasant Hill, executive director of the Y.M.C.A., consists of Mrs. Evelyn Wieland of Concord, Red Cross Director of the Central Contra Costa Chapter; Miss Lorraine Sheehan of Concord, worker in the Social Service Department; Mrs. John H. Selley of Walnut Creek; and Charles Cable of Walnut Creek.

They will present a slate of officers to carry on the work of the Welfare Council for the next twelve months.

Annual reports of Welfare Council Sections which include: Family and Child Welfare; Health, Group Work and Recreation, will be given.

Louis A. Ruybalid, executive director, will make a report of the progress of the Community Welfare Council which was established as a priority allocation of funds made available by the Contra Costa County United Crusade. Ruybalid was selected as executive director April 1.

The public is invited to attend, according to Hogan. Reservations at $1.75 per plate will be taken by phone today, at YE 5-2307, or at 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Lady Realtors Will Hear Panel on Texas

An outstanding panel will discuss "How Can We as Realtors Justify the Taxes in Contra Costa County" at the June 25 meeting of the Women's Division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board at El Nido.

Speaking on the panel will be D. M. Teeter, county administrator; Howard E. McNamer, county auditor; B. O. Wilson, county superintendent of schools; C. L. Dunklee, county assessor; William F. Anderson, realtor and Tom Jensen as moderator.

There will be a smorgasbord at noon, with the program from 12:30 to 1:30.

Letters to The Editor

DIABLO THANKS

Dear Editor:

As the school year closes, we wish to express our appreciation for the coverage which your newspaper has given to the schools of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District.

We especially appreciate your editorial support during the tax campaigns conducted this spring. The success of the May 20 election was the result of the combined efforts of many individuals who wish to continue the kind of educational program which we have developed in this school district.

We, of the professional staff, will make every effort to continue to give the children and youth of this community the best education that we possibly can. We trust that we shall merit the confidence shown by the citizens in the recent election.

JAMES W. DENT

CLUB THANKS

Dear Editor

As publicity chairman for the past year in the Alamo Women's Club, I wish to thank you sincerely for your cooperation and news coverage.

Our club is closing a busy and successful season in which your newspaper played an important part.

Thank you again for your assistance.

MRS. LARRY STARK

CD THANKS

Dear Editor:

The Contra Costa County Office of Civil Defense & Disaster is grateful to you and your staff for the excellent cooperation you have rendered us in publishing news stories and news items about Civil Defense.

Now that my resignation as director has been accepted and I am leaving the employ of Contra Costa County, I wish to thank you personally for your interest and attention given to matters of Civil Defense.

The importance of newspapers as the primary means of imparting information and of keeping people abreast with developing situations so they will know what to expect and what not to expect is immeasurable.

St. Mary's Lists Plan For Dorms

Preliminary plans for the construction of additional dormitory space were announced June 12 by Brother S. Albert, F.S.C., president of Saint Mary's College, at a meeting of the college development committee.

Aimed toward increasing the enrollment to 1000 students, the building plans would provide facilities for over 200 added resident students on the Moraga campus.

Brother Albert pointed out that the total enrollment of resident and non-resident men during the past school year reached 600 and that the projected freshman enrollment in the fall necessitated steps toward the erection of the putting into motion the first dormitory.

No contracts have been let.

At the same meeting, the executive committee of development, Andrew J. Lynch, Fred A. Ferroggiaro and Weller Noble, announced the appointment of three new committeemen.

They are Wyman Riley of Vallejo, managing editor of Gibson Publications, who will chairman the centennial planning committee; William J. Bettencourt of San Leandro, manager of the news bureau for Friden Inc., who will head the information committee; and John E. Schaefer, San Francisco, of the law firm of Cooper, White and Cooper, who will chairman the bequest committee.

All of the appointees are graduates of the college.

Arthur J. Mott was selected earlier to head the Alumni Fund, which is also part of the overall program.

Fluoridation--An Emotional Subject!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

"Wherever the subject of fluoridation has arisen around the country, it has usually been a bitterly divisive local issue, with debate honed to razor-edged keenness."

This quote comes from an excellent article printed in a recent issue of The New York Times called "Fluoride or No: An Emotional Debate," by Gerald Walker.

Certainly in our area we have seen signs of this "emotionalism" and for many weeks we had running letters to the editor in The Sun on the issue, until we finally had to run a notice that all fluoridation letters would be edited down because they were taking up the whole page.

Perhaps this indicates that all of us need a better understanding of the subject, factually, and a little less emotionalism.

The article uses, as an example of the campaigning, both pro and con, the town of Montclair, New Jersey, which has been considering the fluoridation question since 1954 and is still undecided . . . or rather, is still stalemated over the question.

And here we go with Fluoridation . . .

Here are some excerpts from the article:

(When the question was brought before the town council, a few "militantly vocal people arose) . . . "among them Mrs. Edna Troisi, a Montclair housewife who had steeped herself in the arguments cramming the anti-fluoridation literature that has flooded the country recently . . ."

"When it comes to fluorides," Mrs. Troisi asserts, "you don't have to be a doctor or dentist to pursue a course of study."

On the other side of the fence was a Mrs. Sally Huffaker who formed the Montclair Committee to Protect Our Children's Teeth and pressed for positive action. Alligned with Mrs. Huffaker's committee were over 95 per cent of the area's doctors and dentists—200 of them—who signed pro-fluoridation petitions.

"Nationally, fluoridation is endorsed by the American Dental Association, American Medical Association, U. S. Public Health Service, American Pharmaceutical Association, American Water Works Association, U. S. Food and Drug Adminstration and other scientific organizations.

"Communities finding fluoridation a safe, efficient process include Philadelphia, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Washington, Chicago, Cleveland, Baltimore, St. Louis and 14 more of the largest U. S. cities."

Here are some arguments against . . .

As the arguments continued, "arguments of Montclair's anti's fell into patterns identical to those used elsewhere: Fluoridation was an 'unproved experiment'; fluorides, used in rat poison, are 'highly toxic,' fluoridation is a 'mass medication.' They waged a vigorous telephone, letter writing, doorbell-ringing campaign and unloaded printed material featuring a skull-and-crossbones over 'Do You Want Rat Poison in Your Drinking Water?' "

The article noted that "Playing on fears, the anti's kept the pro's off balance. The pro's were forced into length rebuttals filled with scientific detail, often beyond the average layman's grasp."

And on the other side . . .

The debates in Montclair were long and involved. In answer to a "rat poison" charge, the answer was:

"Rat poison, according to Arthur Bushel, head of New York City's Bureau of Dentistry, contains 95-98 per cent fluoride, toxic in that concentration but a far cry from the one part per million used in fluoridation.

"At one p.p.m. not one case of fluoride poisoning has been verified by any reputable scientific body. Mottling of teeth does occur in regions where water naturally contains up to 27 p.p.m. gluoride."

In answer to the charge that "they" are making a non-contagious condition the object of mass-medication, the answer was:

"Contagious or not, tooth decay is second only to the common cold in incidence, affecting 19 out of 20 Americans. It is thus properly treatable by a public health measure no different than the legal requirement, in 27 states, that certain chemicals be added to enrich white flour in bread making. Fluoridation is preventive, not medicative . . . with the cost of fluoridation 10 cents per capita per year, a lifetime of it is less expensive than a single filling."

After all the hearings in Montclair, the town commissioners reached "the inescapable conclusion that fluoridation will not cause any physical harm, that it was easily controlled, and would materially reduce cavities in children's teeth; but after careful evaluation of all the aspects of local fluoridation, Montclair's governing body concluded not to adopt it at the present time.

"In face of what the commissioners themselves called overwhelming proof favoring fluoridation, the first battle had clearly gone to Montclair's anti's. Why?

Why did they get these results?

"One explanation is public apathy. D. Wilfred Funk, noted lexicographer living in Montclair, could not recall whether fluoridation was a conversational topic at any social or business gathering he attended."

In a survey by Bernard Mausner and his wife, the Times article notes that they found these reasons for resistance to fluoridation:

". . . The younger people are usually pro, probably because they are most likely to have children under 12.

". . . Pro's generally include those of higher education, occupation and income status. Of the pro's, 95 per cent accepted scientific organizations as reliable sources of information.

". . . Anti's with less education tended to reject scientific authority. In fact, anti's seemed 'more impressed by the few deviant scientists' than by organized groups, which seemed by the Mausners to be 'unconscious rejection of these sources'."

So what are we going to do?

There are lots more quotes in the article, and lots more information, but that will give you a sample.

Any suggestions as to how it applies to our area? The letters to the editor column is still open, but please, if it is about fluoridation, let's keep the comments short.

We don't want to have to edit out any of your choice prose (we, on the staff know how that hurts!), so how about no more than 50 words?

Planting Season Long In Sunny California

There is no special planting season for trees and shrubs in California. Because of a wonderful mild climate and the helpfulness of plant specialists, home gardeners may add to garden plans all year long.

A wide selection of trees and shrubs grow in containers at nurseries throughout the summer and fall, advises the California Association of Nurserymen. This fortunate situation enables gardeners to gauge fully the attractions of a particular plant item will add to the landscape. For blooming plants such as roses and citrus, seeing the color and shape of buds and blossoms is far more meaningful than thumbing through catalogues.

Container-grown plants may be set out immediately after they are brought home or they may be kept in their cans for weeks. Gardeners intending to plant immediately should have the cans clipped at the nursery. Once a container has been slit the plant must be set out immediately or the plant's roots will dry out.

The home gardener planting from a gallon or five gallon container should lift the plant out of the can and gently loosen the root system from the firmly packed soil prior to placing it in in the planting hole. The hole prepared for the new plant should be just deep enough to keep the soil level the same as the previous level in the container. After the hole is filled in with a suitable soil preparation a watering basin should be dug around the plant. This should be filled twice the first day. After that the plant may be treated the same as any other garden plant.

ICE

Wet or melting ice can make stopping distance twice as long as frozen ice in zero weather. This hazard is greatest when the temperature is at or slightly above the freezing point.

Walnut Creek had a 5-3 lead in the ninth with two down when Vern Anderson tripled. The next two batters walked and the count was knotted when Joe Buell singled a pair of runs across.

It was Anderson double, followed by a single that decided the issue in the fatal 13th.

Other games found Richmond measuring 3-1 as the winners outhit the losers 5-3. Concord had 1 error—Richmond 3.

Concord held the lead with their run coming in the 4th while Richmond tallied all theirs in the eighth.

Battling 'Em Out

By Gordon McNulty

The opening of the Lafayette Youth Baseball season was made official last Sunday with the playing of the annual Dads-Sons game.

The Dads were in fine fettle in the early innings as they took an early 2-0 lead only to "tire" and woble as the went down 5-4.

Highlights of the game:

Al Nelson pitched no-hit no-run bal for coaches during the first three innings of the game.

The best hit of the game came in the fifth inning when Dick David hit a home run off of All-Star Pitcher Brian Allen. It was hit into the deep left field line area.

There were a total of thirty-seven players used in the game.

The winning run came in the last of the fifth inning when Bath stepped to the plate with two aboard and none out. Bath proceeded to hit a single scoring the winning run for the All-Stars.

Hits by Gilliam, Nelson, Ward, and Brekke in succession brought the All-Stars four runs off of Dick David in the bottom of the fourth frame.

Bill Smith, Elmer Anderson, and Lou LaFrance hit a double apiece for the coaches.

The coaches runs came in the second inning when Al Nelson, and Ken Dorr, singled followed by Smith's double. Another run came across in the fourth when Jim Bohannan singled with two out and Elmer Anderson, who had just hit a double, on second. The fourth tally came off of David's round tripper in the fifth stanza.

Franklin Tops Race Field With Baker

By JEAN McGUIRE

Wally Baker and Johnny Franklin both went to the head of their class last Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway.

Baker, in the first 25 lap main, and Franklin in the second. Franklin incidentally, set a new track record of 7.01.05 in this event. The old record was 7.02.20 established by Pee Wee Waybright.

Cliff Bennett of Pacheco, in car number 37, had a difficult time driving the first heat. His car locked up with the rear end of another one and stayed that way through the whole race, finally breaking loose as they came in for the checkered flag. Even with this handicap, Cliff placed fourth. Russ Strock of Concord came in second in this event.

Tim Kelly, of Pacheco, driving car number 44, has been appearing for only a few weeks, but he is already showing he knows his way around the track. Kelly came in third in the second heat, but unfortunately was hit and forced out of the final.

Bob Newkirk, in number 21, had a rough row to hoe last week, he seemed to have nothing but bad luck. In the fourth heat he was hit and spun, losing a tire in the process, and again in the first main he was sent crashing into the fence at the pit turn. At any rate, he kept his sponsor Don Keith, in the Four Corners Body Shop tow truck mighty busy.

Brad McGuire, number 48 of Concord, staged the most spectacular flip of the evening. He was going into the second lap of the "C" race when he was hit from behind by Emory Watne.

The car spun up on its nose, and from there took three jarring end for end flips, finally landing on its wheels again. McGuire was shaken up and taken to the hospital, but fortunately the only injuries were a set of sore muscles. The car fared much worse I'm afraid, the raditor was caved in over the motor, the top was dented in, the frame was bent, shocks were broken . . . Let's just say it was totaled.

Owner Wes Mortimer tells us he plans to build a new one to replace it.

See you at the races tomorrow night. Time trials at 7, first race at 8:15.

Mrs. R. Bowman Wins Tourney

Mrs. Reg Bowman shot a 39 with a 10 handicap on the Diablo Country Club links June 12 to give her a net 29 to win the Class A division of "Best Nine" play.

what this billboard couldn't say...

They just don't make billboards big enough to tell all the ways electric dishwashers relieve kitchen drudgery . . . things like—neatness . . . dishwashers keep clutter off counter-tops; keep mess out of sinks. Kitchens stay tidy morning, noon and night.

speed. . . 5 minutes after dinner, there needn't be a dish in sight. '58 models even eliminate the need for scraping.

cleanliness . . . a dishwasher uses water so hot, it actually sanitizes. All the dishes (most pots 'n pans, too) get hospital-clean.

ease . . . just turn a knob and a day's dishes are rinsed (several times), washed (twice) and dried . . . spotless . . . automatically.

There's a dishwasher to fit every kitchen—portable or built-in. Designs are bright, prices right.

now you know why the billboard says, "don't be a dishwasher—BUY ONE!"

A check for $826 was presented to Mrs. Clem E. Ellerson, President of the East Bay District of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, by Mrs. Robert Lunquist, immediate past President of the Lafayette Suburban Woman's Club.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

Dear friends of "On the Lighter Side" land—contrary to a rumor (which I started), this column will NOT be dropped for the summer. May I clarify one thing?

It is true that the proceeds from it do go to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center but it is NOT true that I write only about Therapy Center members. We want news about EVERYONE living in our surrounding communities. I sincerely hope that more news will be sent to me at the Center, 100 Golf Club Road, Pleasant Hill, or called to the above telephone number.

An 'out-of-this-world' type ball

Guests entered a land of outer space when they attended the "Lombardy" party at the George Merrian home in Sleepy Hollow last Saturday evening. Bev (Mrs. Art) Schwatka and her committee, in a "Sputnik-ish" mood, had intriguing glass globules hanging in profusion from the trees and eves of the stunning Merriam home.

The gardens were enclosed with a reed fence which was a background for hundreds of glistening potted plants. A strolling guitar player mingled among the crowd of about 400 happy guests.

To mention a few: Elva and Don Hutchinson, Louise and Krie Baldwin, Lucy and Leo La Plant, Peggy and Bud Ong, Betty and Ed Bergen, Marion and Bill Fiset and Merlon and Tom Howard. Merlon was the chairman of this year's outstanding affair. Hostess June Merriam was glowing in a periwinkle blue sheath. Blue seemed to be THE shade for the evening.

Color was blue, but party was not!

You should have seen Joan (Mrs. Dick) Kendall who dared to wear an extreme trapeze gown of light blue pique with matching slippers. Many were the comments—naturally, pro and con! Also in blue—"Sev" (Mrs. Frank) Schnugg. She, also, was daring for she wore a sequined "headache band" which, on her, looked GOOD! Many parties were held in homes and restaurants later in the evening. Seen dining at "Trader Vic's" were the Carroll Petersons, Ernest Abbes and the Robert Wisecarvers.

The Art Comerfords and the Colon Browns of Orinda co-hosted a surprise dinner party for the Art Lundblads and the Harry Pecks who celebrated their anniversaries on the same day. This, too, followed the Lombardy party. Others at the dinner were Bobbye and Bill McGuire, and Virginia and Al McCann. Because of the warm and lovely night, guests were served on the patio surrounding the pool. Incidentally, Bea and Art Commerford have recently returned from a three weeks trip to New York and neighboring cities.

They especially enjoyed visiting with friends whom they hadn't seen for many a year. They will be spending this weekend in Carmel.

Another lovely party was given on a recent Saturday evening by Shirley and John Black who live in Arlene Gardens. The affair honored John's brother and his wife, Ann and Peter Black who are going to make their home in New York. Two additional special guests were his mother, Mrs. Elinor H. Black of Menlo Park, and aunt, Margueriate Black Reis of Piedmont.

The gardens were softly lighted with hurricane lamps and warmed with glowing braziers. Masses of pink and red blossoms were grouped here and there, particularly on the buffet table which was covered with a "floor length" pink cloth. The 45 or so guests enjoyed an evening of dancing following a delicious buffet supper. Shirley and John and their attractive children, Connie and John Jr. will join the Peter Black family for a two weeks' stay at Tahoe Meadows with headquarters smack on the shore line. Yum!

Heido Ho, and it was a fine gathering

The "Heidi" girls honored their retiring board of directors the other day at the Don Blackwood home in Lafayette. Following the serving of a sumptious luncheon the new board was installed by Mrs. Griffith Squire. This was an unusual installation in that each new officer was presented with a gift symbolic of her duties. First; the treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Young, was given a piggie bank. Second; the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ledru Frank, was given a miniature typewriter. Third; the recording secretary, Mrs. Charley Morrill, was given a lage, LARGE pencil. Fourth; the vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Hicks, was given a name plate for her desk with this insciption below her name—"President in Charge of Vise." And, fifth; the president, Mrs. Glenn Stubblefield, was presented with a big rubber stick to which a nail had been attached. The accompanying card read—"walk softly but carry a big stick."

Each was presented with a quaint French bouquet. These were made by Georgia (Mrs. T. J.) Clarke. Mrs. Gilbert Myers, the junior past president, presented Mrs. Robert Locke, retiring president with a lovely silver salad serving set, a gift from the membership.

The J. W. Sanduskys of Lafayette were given a surprise baby shower by their good friends the George Conners of Alamo the other night. About 14 couples attended this fun party. It was such a balmy evening that the entire time was spent in the garden. After dinner many hilarious games were played—such as a diaper changing contest. The color scheme for the affair was strictly pink and blue. Three couples from our area were the John Blacks, Arlin Raycrofts and the Al Albietzes.

Visitors, and of course, party time

Barbara and Raymond Parshall of Lafayette have visiting with them for two weeks Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Normn, Oklahoma. A large neighborhood party is being planned for them. From here, the Johnsons will go on to Dallas to visit with Barbara's brother. The Parshalls' daughters, Linda and Paula were among other teen-agers enjoying an afternoon of swimming and sunning at the Orinda Country Club last Saturday.

A few others were the Ed Bergen girls, Cathy Kilgo, Kurt Lundblad and Bob Summers who had just graduated from Acalanes. On the younger side were young Rex Scatena and Bobby Markstein who were bubbling over following a big win on the part of their Little League team that morning. Their mothers and Rex's grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Bray, lunched in the Pine Room. The Erne Abbes contingent was on hand as usual as was the Andrew obertson brood—lovely Barbara Roberston more stunning than ever.

I don't know whether it's ethical for me to tell about our weekend—but I'd love to anyway. After we left the club we took off for a weekend at the Pleasanton Hotel to celebrate Father's Day, my birthday and the Livermore Rodeo. Dick readied the barbecue in the patio and our three chicks and three of their friends downed scads of hamburgers, hot dogs and the rest and just as I had decided I couldn't wait another moment for a bite—out of the hotel trooped a line of our "bestest old friends" as well as many of our new Pleasanton friends. Their arms were laden with pre-dinner snacks and presents.

Haven't been surprised for YEARS and this was a real thrill. Don't know who loved it more, the children or we "girls" when John Bromfield, the "Sheriff of Cochise," joined us—and he is CHARMING! The evening was just gorgeous and after dinner we danced and sang the old songs in the moonlight. Golly! I was happy. Oh, yes—the Livermore Rodeo the next day was an excellent one 'though HOT!

Miss Roeschen Is Betrothed To Mr. Arbogast

July 20 is the announced date for the wedding of Dolores Anne Roeschen to Frederick Lowell Arbogast, both of Lafayette.

Miss Roeschen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roeschen, 3764 Mosswood Drive and Frederick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Arbogast, 3494 Hamlin Road.

Both attended Acalanes High school.

The bride-elect continued her education at the J. R. Powers Modeling School and the Dental Nurses' Training School of San Francisco.

The benedict to be is a student in the college of chemistry at the University of California at Berkeley.

To fry bacon, eggs, hamburgers and other foods while camping, all that's necessary is to lay a double sheet of foil over the grid. This provides a "hot plate" to cook on, and affords any desired degree of heat, if the fire has been built right.

'20 Akorn' Club To Volunteer Time to Groups

Plans have been made by the group to donate several hours work toward helping local welfare agencies needing volunteers.

The June meeting of the group will be at the home of Mrs. Bernard Berzel, 2455 Geraldine Drive, Pleasant Hill, and will be co-hosted by Mrs. James Roan.

Mills Alumni Attend Fete

Attending alumnae reunion activities at Mills College recently were Mrs. Richard Copenhagen, Mrs. John Goldeen, Mrs. Stuart Henderson, Mrs. Ralph MacDuff, Mrs. T. Kirk Miles, Mrs. Herbert Pembroke, Mrs. M. Ramsden and Mrs. Ben Randall of Orinda.

Health Dept. Students To Study Here in Summer

Contra Costa County Health Department has been selected for the fifth consecutive year as a training center for the University of California School of Public Health.

"Training centers are chosen on the basis of the scope of programs in community health education," Dr. H. L. Blum, County Health Officer, said in announcing the placement of Dr. Suzar. Danielson, Miss Cherry Tsutsumida, and Jack Guest here for the summer months.

"The entire department of health has an opportunity to work with these students and to benefit from the latest research and most advanced ideas offered to the School of Public Health," Dr. Blum said.

"In addition to the newest information brought to us, the Health Department is able to provide practical experiences and professional guidance to the trainees."

Lloyd Frost, Chief Health Educator, stated, "This 12 week period is the last phase of their training program to fulfill requirements for the Master's Degree in Public Health." He added that every effort is made to provide working situations which deal with actual health problems existing in the community.

Dr. Danielson will be assigned to Maternal and Child Health under the tutelage of Dr. Togasaki, while Miss Tsutsumida and guest will work in Health Education under the supervision of Frost. Over 100 students will receive graduate degrees in public health at Berkeley this year.

When lighting your flowers for summer beauty, white flowers and gardens with mixed and highly saturated colored blooms usually look best when lighted with white light. If you want to heighten the colors of blossoms, or objects, use bulbs of the same hue.

A Cappella Choir Of Princeton Sets Musical Service

An a cappella choir of 21 voices, the Princeton Seminary Choir, will sing in a special musical service Monday evening, June 30, at First Presbyterian Church of Concord, Salvio and Colfax Streets, Concord.

Princeton Seminary, the oldest and largest seminary of the Presbyterian Church, is attended by theological students who are already graduates of many colleges and universities.

The Choir, under the leadership of Dr. David Hugh Jones, has been heard in every state of the union and in many foreign countries.

Four local churches — the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Pleasant Hill, the First Presbyterian Church of Concord — are joining in sponsoring this choral service.

The pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Mr. James Crothers, was a member of Dr. Jones' first traveling choir.

The program will begin at 7:30. The public is invited to attend.

Hey! Vacationer! Summer's Coming

With the sunny weather we've been having lately, you hardly need be told—but for the record, Sunday marks the beginning of summer.

And, summer begins the vacation season, with area residents taking off for the mountains and lakes, or for the solitude of their own homes.

Whatever you have planned for your summer vacation, you'll find your every vacation needs right in nearby shops in Orinda, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill, and Walnut Creek.

You need go only a few blocks from home to find every item to make your vacation complete. Whether it's water skis, tennis racquets and sailing gear,, or just some of the many items for Dad's backyard puttering, you won't have to go any further than your own "backyard" shops to find them.

Vacation time will be a fine opportunity, too, for Dad to take a casual look at the plentitude of stores in his neighborhood. He will find items for backyard barb-q-ing garding, hobby equipment and sports gear. If he's a boater, he'll find motors, sails, yacht garb, and plenty of sleek hulls to "thump."

For Mom, vacation affords that much-needed time off to do a thorough job of comparision shopping, so that she can pick the bargains for her vacation bound family.

The Central Contra Costa area affords an abundance of shops of all kinds, from the biggest supermarkets and department stores to the smallest specialty shops.

Walnut Creek's Broadway Shopping Center, for instance, offers a vast variety of shops and stores of all kinds, and all settled in a pleasant, modern setting, with distinctive store fronts and attractive window displays.

So wherever you're going, and whatever you're planning on doing, take advantage of your nearby Central Contra Costa County shops during Summer Vacation Time.

NOW . . . you can afford to sleep the smooth-top way at Sterling!
